

this will allow us to assign multiple users to multiple groups and vice versa, so the communication assistant can send messages to certain groups which we can then expand upon to perhaps create a group hierarchy based on preference and integrate multiple messaging platforms